DOMITOR'S SURPRISING WIN.

The Oakley stable turned a trick with its colt Domitor at Ideal Park yesterday. The youngster has started several times but at no time did he run fast or show quality enough to give him an outside chance. Domitor was in with Lincoln II, Chenille and other fair ones and was backed from 4 to 1 off the boards. Form players and close observers could see no possible way for him to win. The plunge was surprising. The colt's performance was more startling still. Caywood got him off well and after Devoir and Fortunate had raced themselves to pieces in front, he came on and won by a scant length. Lincoln II, the natural favorite, was never prominent until too late to win when he came very fast. It was a bad looking race and is to be investigated.

The judges have suspended Jockey Wiley Jones, who rode the colt in his previous races, and Mr. Hughes will be called upon to explain Domitor's sudden awakening. He was not at the track yesterday, and G.W. Poole took charge of the colt. The Domitor surprise matched that of Her Excellency.

The rain came before the first race and continued the entire afternoon.

Outside of Domitor, but one favorite, Dantes, scored, and the victories of Sandoval and Nemaha were oil and honey to the ring. Sandoval's win was in the mile and one-sixteenth and over such good ones as Florence P. Mandolina, Eagle Bird and Crevasse. Naturally he was at long odds. The going just suited him and he won all the way. Crevasse sulked early and was never a factor.

Jockey Sullivan has been set down for the remainder of the meeting. He has been doing Ben Falk's riding.
